

This topographic map depicts the Salitre Mesa area within the Cibola National Forest. The map features a grid of red and black lines, with red lines indicating specific survey or management boundaries. The terrain is characterized by green contour lines showing elevation, with peaks reaching up to 7700 feet. Key geographical features include Bluewater Lake in the lower-left corner, Salitre Mesa in the center, and the Arroyo and Bluewater Creek. The map also shows the boundary between McKinley County and Cibola County, and the location of Bluewater State Park. Various landmarks such as Prewitt, Baca Sliding, and Mitchell are marked. The map includes a scale bar at the bottom, indicating distances in feet and miles, and a north arrow in the upper right corner.
