

This is a detailed topographic map of the Navajo Indian Reservation in Arizona. The map is oriented with North at the top. It features a grid of latitude and longitude lines, with coordinates labeled along the edges. The central part of the map is dominated by the Navajo Indian Reservation, which is labeled in large, bold, black letters. To the north of the reservation, the Hopi Buttes are visible, and to the south, the Painted Desert is shown. The map includes numerous contour lines indicating elevation, as well as labels for various geographical features such as mountains, valleys, and rivers. Towns and settlements are marked with dots and labeled, including Winslow, Flagstaff, and Navajo. The map also shows the boundaries of the Navajo, Hopi, and Maricopa counties. The overall color scheme is a mix of greens, browns, and blues, with red lines for the grid and black lines for labels and boundaries.
